Taos Youth Music School

Tara Somerville

Tara Somerville is a singer songwriter originally from New York City, her songs inspired as much by long subway rides as by silent snowfalls in the sagebrush. The music teacher at Taos Charter School since 2011, she is delighted to embark on her fourth year with Taos Youth Music School. Her body-centered approach to music teaching draws from her practice of 5Rhythms and African dance, emphasizing improvisation and collaboration and a kinesthetic union with the spirit and joy of music from around the world.
